LIVE ANIMAL SHIPPER'S CERTIFICATION & JOURNEY DECLARATION

Every animal's health & safety is our top priority.

We want every animal to be safe and comfortable during travel. For your animal's safety, please review your responsibilities before tendering any live animal for transportation with Delta Air Lines.

Instructions for shippers are given in Chapters 1, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 of the IATA Live Animals Regulations. Before any consignment containing live animals is tendered with Delta Air Lines, the shipper must ensure that

- ✓ the animals being tendered for transportation are not prohibited by government regulations.
- ✓ all the required export, import, and/or transit health certificates, licenses or permits, etc. are accompanying the shipment.
- ✓ the animal shipments are properly classified, described, packed, marked, and labeled.
- ✓ the IATA Shipper's Certification and Journey Declaration for Live Animals has been properly completed.
- ✓ pregnant animals must not be tendered for transportation without official veterinary certificate certifying that the animal(s) is (are) fit to travel and that there is no risk of birth occurring during the entire journey (Note: Pregnant monkeys, nursing females with suckling young and un-weaned animals are not accepted for air transport).
- ✓ no animals are to be tendered for transportation having given birth in the last 48 hours before the start of the journey.
- ✓ the animals have been properly prepared for transportation (see specific container requirements for further information).
- ✓ the animal is not tranquilized without veterinary approval and supervision.
- ✓ the consignee has been advised of the flight details to arrange immediate collection on arrival.
- ✓ a 24-hour phone number that the air carrier can obtain instruction from the shipper or his agent in the event of an emergency is provided, and such information is written on the Air Waybill.
